HELP PLAN THE ACTIVITIES OF THE STUDENT COALITION AGAINST RACISM

The National Student Coalition Against Racism (NSCAR) is a coalition of college and high school students, Black student unions, and other campus and community groups committed to the fight against racism. NSCAR grew out of struggles of the Black community to desegregate the Boston school system. At its founding conference of over 2,000 held in February 1975, NSCAR voted to support and actively build the May 17 National Freedom March called by the NAACP. That march brought over 15,000 people from all over the country to Boston in support of school desegregation. There are currently over sixty active chapters of NSCAR throughout the country involved in local and national struggles against racism. Local SCAR chapters have been active in building support for Joanne Little, in stopping the tuition hikes and budget cutbacks that hit Blacks and other oppressed minorities the hardest. In Newark we are active in freeing Rubin "Hurricane" Carter who was framed up and railroaded into jail. At Essex County College we've sponsored a meeting to publicize and build the Carter defense. At the upcoming meeting we want to initiate a SCAR chapter at Essex.
